Welcome JOT Automation!

Based in Finland and with offices throughout the world, JOT Automation makes test and manufacturing equipment, and related services, to provide smooth and cost-effective transition to production, short time-to-volume and time-to-profit, easy assembly in mass production and high quality.

JOT Automation-branded equipment is available in standard or customized configurations that can be combined into complete and customer-specific turnkey solutions. The solutions we provide are for test, assembly, material processing, and material handling processes. To answer the market and manufacturing challenges you're facing, we also offer you design for manufacturing, test development, test integration, and equipment modification services.

Here in San Diego, JOT Automation's main focus is the Intelligent Handset Tester (IHT), a tool for automating mobile testing from the end user perspective. The Intelligent Handset Tester (IHT) can be used to develop and execute handset User Interface (UI) tests:

- Handset manufacturers can use the IHT to automate their internal regression tests, perform customer acceptance pre-tests and execute pre-conformance tests.
- Network operators can use the acceptance test suites created using IHT as gating criteria for handset acceptance.
- Test labs can use the IHT to automate conformance testing solution projects.

This handset tester platform is able to create and execute all of these tests in a consistent and automated way. This cuts down on not only test times per cycle, but also reduce the number of times a handset needs to be retested. If the tests pass in the manufacturer's test lab, they can be confident it will pass at both the network operator and the conformance lab.

You can find more information about the IHT and see a demonstration video on our website at www.jotautomation.com/iht.

Please feel free to stop by and see us in 227. We'd love to meet our new neighbors.
